

How to Conduct a Group Interview

Group Interviews

A group interview allows you to leverage your time by having multiple candidates in front of you in a single interview. You also get to see how they present in a group. Importantly, all the candidates will receive exactly the same message, adding a level of integrity to the assessment process.

